Iowa Northern Railway Company is "ALL Aboard" for safety, great customer service, and excellent operations. They are headquartered in Cedar Rapids, Iowa with offices, repair and maintenance shops, and yard facilities in Manly, Greene, and Waterloo. Iowa Northern Railway Company, was formed in 1984 on a section of the old Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad Company. The line runs diagonally through Iowa northwest to southeast from Manly to Cedar Rapids, a branch line from Waterloo to Oelwein, and a branch line from Forest City to Belmond, all within the state of Iowa. Iowa Northern serves 20 grain elevators, 2 ethanol plants, 2 mineral processing facilities, and handles other commodities such as fertilizer, farm machinery, food, chemicals, lumber, and more. Iowa Northern is the serving carrier to Manly Terminal, which is a liquids storage and transloading facility, serving biofuel production industries handling fuels, chemicals, and co-products, located in the heart of ethanol production in the United States. Manly Terminal is also involved with renewable energy as it has over 20 acres dedicated to a wind turbine component distribution center.
